	DATE	November 2005

Overview

Introduction This topic details the Revenue source structure and codes used in accounting transactions by the Commonwealth of Virginia.

The information obtained from the revenue source structure is used for several management purposes:

1. Complying with State law, which specifies that revenue from some sources must be identified and used only for certain purposes.
 2. Analyzing revenue trends by source and developing estimates for future revenue collections.
 3. Determining if reductions in expenditures or other adjustments are required during the fiscal year based on comparison of actual and estimated revenue.

Structure and Content

Overview

The revenue source code consists of five digits. The first two digits indicate Revenue Class; and the third digit denotes Subclass when required for further categorization. The last two digits identify the specific source of revenue.

Revenue Class

Revenue Class is the primary designation of revenue source within the revenue source structure. There are ten major categories or classes of revenue which apply Statewide. Except for Federal grants, the first two digits of the Revenue Source Code indicate the Revenue Class. For example, Revenue Source Code 01055 (Beer Excise Tax) falls with Revenue Class 01000 - Taxes. All Federal grants are Revenue Class 10000.

Revenue Subclass

Revenue Subclass is a secondary designation of revenue source. Subclasses have been assigned to those Revenue Classes for which further categorization of the type of revenue source is needed for recording and reporting purposes. The third digit of the Revenue Source Code indicates Revenue Subclass in combination with the first two digits denoting Revenue Class. Some Revenue Classes, such as 01000 - Taxes and 03000 - Sales of Property and Commodities, have not been broken down into subclasses; while other classes, for instance 02000 - Rights and Privileges, have many subclass designations.

Revenue Source Codes and Titles Each Revenue Source is assigned to a specific fund or funds. These relationships are indicated on the listing of Revenue Source Codes and Titles. Some revenue sources (such as insurance recoveries, proceeds from sale of surplus property, and rental of equipment) can apply to more than one fund. If revenue is deposited to a fund other than the designated fund(s), the transaction will be rejected for review and correction. The revenue source code assigned to Federal grants is the same as the program code assigned by the Federal Government.

Revenue Source codes have been established for Federal grants with no program code. These are entitled "Other assistance — XXX" where XXX is the Federal grantor agency. Unidentified assistance should be recorded in 99000 until it can be moved to the proper revenue source code.

The State program and revenue source structures are independent entities within the Chart of Accounts structure. There may be instances in which an agency or Statewide program relates coincidentally to a particular revenue source on a one for one basis.

Special Consideration in Coding

Non-general Funds To prevent duplicate counting of non-general funds revenue, DOA has established procedures to account for non-general fund cash transfers. Refer to CAPP Volume 1, Topic No. 20105—"Appropriations, Allotments and Transfers" for further information.

Revenue Source Codes and Titles

Revenue Source Codes Listing

A detailed listing of revenue source codes and titles in numerical sequence follows. A revenue source code is the most detailed or lowest level designation of revenue information in the Chart of Accounts structure. Identified after each revenue source title are the two digit fund codes with which the revenue source code is associated. Revenue transactions input to CARS with a fund other than one of the indicated fund codes will be rejected from processing. Only the codes established in CARS Descriptor Table (D17) are authorized for agency use. These codes can be viewed through on-line CARS. (See CAPP Topic No. 60112—"Table Maintenance" for inquiry procedures.)

NOTE: CARS uses the Federal grantor's program number as the Commonwealth's revenue source codes. Federal program numbers can be found in the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance.
